

Contribute US$1 per month and help Needy children of Nepal

| Background |

Education is a self enlightening process and the portal to overall development in the long- run. But Nepal's literacy rate is just 52.74%. Many Children don't get chance to go School because of their parent's weak economic condition, lack of availability of schools and many other socio-economic problems. The children need to work in the firm fields to support their parents as soon as they reach 6-7 years. Some work as child labors in industries, factories and restaurant. There are also many orphans and street children in Nepal. Our government does not have the resources to educate all children. In the scenario of developing nations and less developed nations, school is the only place where students could go and get education.

Therefore, having perceived and internalized the need of education "Mother and Children Art Foundation" (MCAF) has established and running a school called Shram Jyoti Public School in a suburb of Kathmandu for better access to educational opportunities to the ethnic group, orphans, street children, disables and children living under the poverty line. MCAF also has been supporting many other schools, orphanages and very needy children by running the educational support projects and child sponsorship program.
